

Everything about your company profile

You have already received an e-mail from us to edit and fill in your company profile (sender: talque). You can access your company profile via the link in the e-mail. You can fill in the profile with your name, description, logos, contact details and other information. This allows visitors to find out as much as possible about your company, products and services.

For English participants, you also have the option of entering English descriptions. If nothing has been entered, the German text is automatically displayed to participants - the profile does not remain empty.
